

30 PER CENT. SHRIKAGE IN FEDERAL TAX COLLECTIONS

Fell Off Almost $1,400,000, 000 During Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1922—Income and Profits Taxes Decreased $1,141,000,000, or 35 Per Cent—Cost of Collecting Each $100 Has Increased From 72 Cents to $1.07—Total Payroll of the Prohibition Unit Increased $2,000,000 Over the Previous Year.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Federal tax collections during the fiscal year ended, June 30, 1922, fell off almost $1,400,000,000, or 35 per cent, compared with the previous year, according to the annual report of the internal revenue bureau issued tonight by Commissioner Blair. Income and profits taxes collected during the year showed a decrease of $1,141,000,000, or 35 per cent, from $3,281,000,000 in 1921 to $2,140,000,000 in 1922. Total tax collections for the year aggregated $2,197,451,085 compared with $3,281,000,000 for 1921. Income and profits taxes for 1922 amounted to $2,086,814,484 against $3,233,137,673 the previous year.

Miscellaneous collections arising from taxation other than that on incomes and profits amounted to $110,636,601 for 1922, a decrease of $1,400,000,000, or 35 per cent, from $327,865,521 for 1921. This slump, Mr. Blair declared, was accounted for mostly by the repeal or reduction in rates of various taxes provided for in the revenue act of 1921, effective January 1, 1922.

The net expenditure for collecting taxes for 1922 was $34,286,651 which was equivalent to $1.07 for each $100 collected as compared with 72 cents for each $100 the previous year.

"The difference in the relative cost of collection for the fiscal years 1921 and 1922," Mr. Blair said, "is due mainly to the large reduction in the revenues of 1922 incident to the shrinkage in various miscellaneous taxes and various provisions of the law such as the amortization of war time facilities and the increase in individual exemptions collections in the revenue act of 1921, with the consequent reduction in the income tax liability of corporations and individuals.

Of the various revenues, tobacco and fermented liquor taxes only showed an increase over 1921. Collections, other than income and profits taxes, for 1922 as compared with the preceding fiscal year were:

Distilled spirits, including wines, $450,582,999 against $258,980,000.

Fermented liquors, $46,000 against $25,000.

Tobacco material manufacturers, $270,000,000 against $255,219,000.

Cigarette manufacturers, $2,333,000 against $2,000,000.

Capital stock tax, including other special taxes, $96,544,000 against $91,281,000.

HOUSE TO VOTE ON THE SHIPPING BILL WEDNESDAY

Washington, Nov. 26.—Buffeted back and forth by three days of general debate, the administration shipping bill tomorrow will enter what is generally agreed to be its real trouble zone. It will be taken up under the rule permitting consideration of any germane amendment and indications are that a multitude of proposals will be offered and disposed of before the final vote Wednesday night.

Chairman Campbell of the rules committee has announced that the rule permitting unlimited amendment was made to give the house an opportunity to pass the bill, and that he will not want and on one which it would be willing to stand.

Notwithstanding the prospect of determined efforts to change the bill, Representative Mondell, republican leader, has assured President Harding that it will pass the house by a comfortable margin, and other proponents of the measure are confident that it will go through without material modification. The opposition, however, asserts the administration leaders will need a full attendance Wednesday to avoid defeat.

Representative Edmonds, Pennsylvania, and ranking republican on the merchant marine committee, has announced that he will move to strike out the section giving the shipping board jurisdiction over coastwise rates pending a hearing on the question, and Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, has prepared an amendment providing for a committee to produce at interior points where consignments are shipped on vessels receiving government aid. In some quarters this amendment is regarded as reflecting in a degree the attitude of members of the farm bloc towards the measure.

Telegrams continued to come in today from absentees seeking to change the bill, reflecting in a degree the attitude of members of the farm bloc towards the measure.

Tiernan, former law instructor at Notre Dame university and figure in the Tiernan-Poulth paternity suit, returned today to his home in South Bend to attempt to straighten out the legal tangle caused by his divorce last Thursday, his marriage two days later and the vacating of his divorce decree last night on the plea of his first wife that he had deceived her.

She said that she would not return to her husband until the legal tangle was straightened out.

A complete reorganization of the activities of the prohibition unit was effected during the year, resulting in greater efficiency and expedition in the handling of work, Mr. Blair reported. A total of 2,034 cases covering violations of the prohibition laws was reported by the new force of general agents, and 1,716 cases were reported by the new force of special agents.

The total payroll of the prohibition unit for 1922 for 1922 was $6,000,000, an increase of $2,000,000 over the previous year.

Production of alcohol during the year aggregated 79,900,000 gallons, a decrease of 5,000,000 gallons, while with the decrease in production, the total amount of distilled spirits other than alcohol for domestic consumption aggregated 2,740,000 gallons, a decrease of 6,000,000 gallons.

TO HAVE MOTORLESS GLIDING AND SOARING FLIGHT

New York, Nov. 26.—An international motorless gliding and soaring flight competition, with a class for planes with two to seven horse-power will be held in January, probably on the Ormond-Daytona beach, Fla., aero organization officials announced.

Besides American builders of motorless planes entrants will come from England, Holland, and may be other European countries, notably Anthony H. G. Fokker and Erich Meyer who were prominent in the recent competitions abroad. Three trophies, ranging from $500 to $1,000 already have been offered.

Ormond-Daytona beach is the present choice for a site because the winds prevailing there in January are steady and shorewards and the sand dunes reach a pitch 27 feet above high tide. Fully meteorological data is being studied however, and the Halifax river may be chosen.

Officials of the National Aeronautical association and the Aero Science club of America, in charge of the meet, predict great interest in the event, planes that are gliding, and the popularization of aviation is more dependent upon the former.

Three gliders are being constructed for the meet, a Sopwith, a Nieuport and others are in operation in Vermont, New York state, Florida and at Cleveland, army and post office officials have shown interest in the meet, the announcement says.

ANNE MACSWINEY STILL FASTING OUTSIDE PRISON

Dublin, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—Anne MacSwiney still is fasting outside the Mount Joy prison. Since she was ejected from a position at the inner gate by the military she has occupied a position in a public demonstration. There was a constant stream of sympathizers passing her cot today, stopping a moment before the screen concealing the stretcher on which she lies to observe or to offer prayers.

Miss MacSwiney said a military officer yesterday gave her an order to move but that she declined and declared she would fast until the military would call the policeman in duty and charge the military with assault. Nothing further happened although she declared the officer later made representations about a fire in the roadway near her cot which her friends had built.

Miss MacSwiney has addressed a letter to every member of parliament protesting against the action of the provisional government in detaining her sister, Mary MacSwiney, who is on a hunger-strike inside the prison.

Greece Experiencing a Ministerial Crisis

Caused by Trial of Former Greek Cabinet Ministers on Charge of Treason.

Athens, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—The trial of former cabinet ministers and others charged with treason, in connection with the defeat of the Greek army by the Turks is reaching its last stages.

The past two days were spent by the counsel for the revolutionary committee in addressing the court in support of the contention that the defendants were guilty. Today's proceedings were given over to the defense. A verdict probably will be reached early next week.

A ministerial crisis has arisen in consequence of the declaration of the British representatives against the imposition of death sentences against the accused. The officials of all the other countries except France, have orally supported the British.

The revolutionary committee holds that the verdict of the court must be carried out, no matter what it is. The Greek official world and the general public indignantly resent this foreign intervention. It is understood that if difficulties arise in the formation of a new cabinet, the place of that of Zaimis which resigned Friday, the revolutionary committee will take up the reins of government and constitute a military cabinet.

The trial of the former cabinet ministers will continue tomorrow. The defendants are charged with treason, in connection with the defeat of the Greek army by the Turks is reaching its last stages.

TURKEY NOT WINNING AT LAUSANNE CONFERENCE

Lausanne, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—A review of the first day of the Lausanne conference shows that Turkey met signal defeat in her first demand, namely for a plebiscite in western Thrace, which she maintains is overwhelmingly of Turkish population.

The Turks, however, have placed on the diplomatic board a proposal which is affording great embarrassment to all the powers. Turkey wants to have marked out along the entire Aegean coast from the Black Sea to the Aegean and they want the powers to guarantee that it should be kept neutral.

This unquestionably is a move calculated to secure peace in the Balkans, but Europe hesitates to take over direct responsibility concerning Balkan territory, which so many wars have been fought and where the "national aspirations" are still a powerful factor for discord.

Similarly Turkey asks that the Aegean islands which lie near her Anatolian coast be demilitarized and an autonomous form of government established. This is an extension to the sea of the neutral belt proposal suggested for the Balkans.

When it comes to a settlement of the straits controversy Turkey will undoubtedly demand additional strong guarantees against aggressions by Christian Europe. Ismet Pasha appears to be looming up as an astute statesman.

The Bulgarians are angry over the Turkish refusal to keep neutral. They want a free port, instead of a sovereign, Bulgarian commercial center. The Bulgarian delegation has issued a broadside to the press demanding Greek objection as voiced by Venizelos. It insists that an outlet for Bulgaria to the Aegean sea would only be effective if its access were assured through territory either Bulgarian or under Greek control. It declares that any other solution would be palliative, entailing dangerous consequences to Bulgarian trade. It concludes:

"Bulgaria, though defeated and humiliated, has at least the right to refuse that gift, which reminds her too much of the old tale of Danaos so thoroughly in conformity with the Hellenic traditions of the day of Troy."

In other words, Dedeagatch, without absolute possession, it is considered, would be a left-handed present of doubtful value in the event of new Balkan intrigues or conflicts.

GREECE HAS REPLIED TO THE BRITISH NOTE

London, Nov. 26.—A despatch to the Times from Athens says it has been learned that the Greek reply to the British note offering to arbitrate the dispute over the Aegean islands, which was received by the British government yesterday, was a categorical refusal to give this guarantee.

The despatch adds that the British government refused to give this guarantee.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST SELLING OF FRAUDULENT OIL STOCKS

New York, Nov. 26.—Charging that 95 per cent of all oil stock advertising is "damaging, misleading and deceptive," a nationwide campaign against sellers of stock of fraudulent oil companies was announced today by the national vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising clubs.

The announcement comes on the heels of a special report of oil promoters issued by the committee after an investigation in the Texas oil fields by Edward Schwab, former postoffice inspector, and a number of government inspectors. In a statement tonight the advertising committee declared that much evidence had been obtained against bogus operators and that it would be placed in the hands of government prosecutors.

"In pursuance of its policy of concentrating on the abuses in one particular industry at a time, until they are removed or materially reduced," the statement says, "the national committee will for the present devote its activities to oil, and Texas is the great incubator for 'snake oil' men. Mr. Schwab will continue his work in that state until conditions show radical improvement."

Owing to the increasing difficulty in the publicity line, the report says, some bogus oil stock operators are publishing their own newspapers, through which they build "snake oil" and then, by use of the mails, drive home the snake oil of one promotion after another.

Newtown, Conn., Nov. 26.—George Taylor of Bethel, was injured fatally today when a heavy auto-truck he was driving, ran wild down a hill on the Danbury road three miles from here and crashed through a fence. His brother, who was riding beside him, was uninjured.

The truck, loaded with wood, shot off the road at the bottom of the hill where the road curved, and smashing through a fence, overturned. Taylor was crushed and died at the Danbury hospital shortly after he arrived there.

$40,000 FIRE IN RAILROAD STATION IN SPRINGFIELD

Tied Up Traffic on All Railroads Entering the City—Police, Firemen and Station and Postal Employees Worked in Dense Smoke to Remove Mail Matter—Passengers on Trains Were Forced to Leave the Cars in the Yards—All Lights in Streets Near the Union Station Were Out.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 26.—Fire which swept through the north side of Union station early tonight, tied up traffic on all railroads entering the city and caused damage estimated at $40,000. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Police, firemen and station and postal employees battled in dense clouds of smoke for nearly an hour to remove mail stored in one end of the building. All of the pouches and registered mail matter was removed, officials said. Police were rushed from headquarters to guard the pouches.

The fire was one of the most stubborn in several years. Two alarms were sounded and additional apparatus was summoned later. Firemen were handicapped by the fact that the building is built on a steep grade which lowered the water pressure and necessitated the use of pumps.

Passengers on trains were forced to leave the cars in the yards and make their way through darkness to the streets as all the lights in both the north and south stations went out. Express matter was carried from the station by employees and was not damaged. It is said, however, that the fire had originated in the basement of the building and in a few minutes had swept through the waiting room to the roof.

FIRE IN BRISTOL, TENN., REVEALS SIX MURDERS

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 26.—James W. Smith, 50 years old, wife, their two-year-old daughter, Ruby, and their niece, Mrs. Deline Burdick, and her son, Charles, 12, were murdered here today this morning and the house in which they lived burned to the ground.

Ben Burdick, 41, husband of the murdered woman, was arrested at Johnson City this afternoon and is being held in connection with the crime. He protests his innocence, but others say he snatched and trousers were covered with blood when he was taken.

The crime was discovered about 4 o'clock this morning when one fire department was called to the combination evidence and grocery store of Smith. When the flames had been extinguished the charred bodies of the five were found in the ruins. The victims evidently had been beaten with an axe or some other heavy implement and the house set afire to hide the crime.

Burdick and his wife had been separated, and he is said to have made threats against her. Recently, police say, he came to them and said his wife was contemplating a divorce and he would rather see her dead than anyone else have her.

Burdick was employed in a restaurant, coming here about two months ago. Officers are investigating reports that Smith yesterday committed some property and carried the proceeds, a large sum, on his person. Burdick had about $30 on him when arrested.

Mrs. Burdick had been married before and the son was by the previous marriage. Local authorities announced tonight that Burdick would be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon. He was brought here this afternoon to view the bodies in a local undertaking establishment.

The man showed no concern while looking at the charred remains of his wife and child, and the property of the family, which was scattered about the house. Police say Burdick's shirt and trousers were spotted with blood. Chief of Police D. L. Headlin said tonight that Burdick when arrested was wearing a pair of trousers that he had stolen from a store.

Services for the five victims will be held tomorrow afternoon.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY SLACKENED LAST WEEK

New York, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—Signs have not been wanting during the past week that the usual November slackening in industrial activity is under way. Railway car loadings for the week ended Nov. 11 showed a further falling off in rate, although the total number of cars loaded, 954,000, is still very large and exceeds the movement in the corresponding weeks of 1921 and 1920.

Election day and the holiday day may have played a part in slowing down the movement, but there are other developments, such as a slight falling off in the demand for cars, which suggest the normal tendency.

One result of the somewhat better car situation has been further gains in soft coal production, which now is well established at a rate appreciably above 11,000,000 tons a week. Further progress has been made in restoring stocks of fuel and coal operators have made reports of no demand from most of the states west of the Mississippi. Barring spells of extremely severe weather, it is considered that the danger of a fuel famine is past.

Steel production continues to hold up remarkably well. The country's mills are working at a rate not far short of 80 per cent of capacity and the trade reports show no signs of slackening. To ensure the maintenance of approximately this scale of activity into the first quarter of the year.

FRANCE IS FUZZLED BY THE ATTITUDE OF UNITED STATES

Paris, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—The French foreign office is puzzled in interpreting the attitude of the United States government regarding the open door in Turkey, as pronounced by Ambassador Child at the Lausanne conference, Saturday.

"Does it refer to Mesopotamian oil?" was the query circulating today among officials, who added that they were frank to confess "we are totally at sea as to the meaning."

A prominent foreign official who returned tonight from Lausanne said the declaration of Mr. Child did not surprise officials of the governments which had received the American government's note of October 30 and on the whole the Lausanne conference was proceeding satisfactorily.

NO TREATY EXISTS BETWEEN GERMANY AND TURKEY

Paris, Nov. 26.—(By the A. P.)—The Turkish representative here today issued a statement saying he was further to deny in a most formal manner reports that a treaty exists between Germany and Turkey. It is pointed out in the statement that many such reports were in circulation.

Special reference is made to a statement made by Mr. Clemenceau in a speech in the United States in which the former French premier is quoted as saying that Turkey would aid Germany in a new war that was in preparation.
